What is Cavan Community Forum?

Cavan Community Forum is the voice and networking body for Cavan Community groups. It was established by Cavan County Council under 'Better Local Government' in 2002 to enable local community groups to participate in the work of the Council. It is now an independent body, but it is based in the Farnham Centre and works closely with the Council.

Key Aims

- To involve people in the social, cultural and economic planning in the county
- To share information, experience and tackle common problems
- To make representations on issues that affect communities in Cavan,
- To support local consultation
- To represent community organisations in Cavan.
